Dear Madam;

RE: PRICE RIVER DIST.

On my return to Salt Lake City I find your letter of Aug. 25 with reference to continuing troubles in Spring Canyon.

After careful consideration it seems impossible for this office or my assistants to control this situation under arrangements at present existing on the Price River. I believe that the only way that definite results can be had would be by appointing a special deputy whose business it would be to remain constantly on the ground and watch this situation. This would probably cost in the neighborhood of $200 a month and I assume be assessed pro rata between you and the Elegantis'.

Although it is apparent that Mr. Wayman seems to give satisfactory results to other water users he cannot satisfy the requirements in Spring Canyon owing to his inability to be on the ground all the time and therefore I consider that your criticisms of his efforts are quite uncalled for under the circumstances.

Yours very truly,

State Engineer.
